

Accountability at work

What does accountability look and sound like to an employer, or a coworker?

How would they know if someone was accountable or not?

Use the table below to write down a couple of examples of being accountable and not accountable at work. What do people say or do to show their accountability at work?

	Accountable	Not accountable
Looks like this
Sounds like this

A place for your notes:
